

Clear Connections Project Membership Agreement

The Clear Connections Project (CCP) seeks to help more low-income Illinoisans graduate and move on to better paying careers by:

1. Strengthening access to and quality of student academic and support services within colleges.
2. Improving state policies and investment in effective academic and support services.

Membership

Coalition members are committed to improving college completion rates for low-income, non-traditional students through dynamic partnerships and innovations in student academic and support services. Members can receive free technical assistance and are encouraged to examine their own practices and apply project principles to their own institutions. CCP members work together to promote systemic changes, including increased state funding for these innovations.

Project members commit to:

1. Supporting CCP principles and championing these principles within their institutions.
2. Advocating for policy and funding improvements to academic and support services for low-income students in Illinois.
3. Investing more time and resources within their institutions to improve the success of low-income, non-traditional students.

Membership in the Clear Connections Project is completely free, but our work is made possible by donations from organizations and individuals. Members are encouraged to support Women Employed's work through our annual luncheon or other donations. We also encourage you to join our action network.

I/we support the Clear Connections Project and want to become a member.
